Home and remote working is part and parcel of the modern era. While the office continues to play a huge role in Housing Authorities, more and more workers require the flexibility to conduct their work outside of the office.

Housing officers required to inspect homes need to constantly be connected, update their work and see updates coming in. Maintenance workers need the most up to date information, constant connectivity and the ability to report on a complete job as soon as possible. All these jobs rely on mobile connectivity.

At Daisy, we work with the UK's leading mobile providers to get the best tariff for your staff. From unlimited data to shared out data pools with Daisy O2 Fusion and Daisy Vodafone Fusion, which gives your staff access to all the data you pay for rather than tying it to their SIM card. There's plenty of choice and that lets us give you the best deals possible.

As well as providing excellent value for money, the service provided by the team has been of a consistently high standard.

Our Lots and Products

Mobile Deals

We don't just supply connectivity; we also have a range of the best handsets for the job. As the UK's largest independent mobile seller, we offer great value business mobile deals that meet all your staff's needs. From iPhones to Samsung and Sony, we have everything your staff need to function at their best out on the road or liaising with clients from home.

We also combine our phones with the UK's leading networks, giving you the freedom to choose between O2, EE and Vodafone to find the perfect deal for you.

Mobile workers will constantly need handsets to register their work and access their workload, but staff working from home will also benefit from having a work number so they can contact suppliers and tenants without using their personal phone. Whatever you need, at Daisy, we've got you covered. Check out our full range of mobile deals at:

Stay Secure

No matter whether your employees are working at home, in the office or on the road; ensure they stay safe and secure with Mobile Device Management (MDM). MDM allows you to manage your mobile fleet and configure them to your business' specifications, whatever they may be.

Keep important data safe and secure and rest easier knowing that you can preserve your business data by wiping devices remotely at any time. You'll be able to connect with your employees using instant messaging software and can monitor your usage in real-time, ensuring you stay within your tariff limits.

MaaS360 is a cloud-based product that allows you to manage your own devices or business-issued devices including tablets, smartphones and operating systems. It's the perfect solution that cuts across all walks of technology, allowing you to manage all your devices with complete, trustworthy security, which is essential for Housing Authorities who deal with sensitive information on a daily basis.

Home Working

Your staff at home don't just need connectivity and hardware, they also need the software to get the job done. We recommend Microsoft 365. No longer just the Office suite, although it does come with all the usual suspects in Word, Excel, PowerPoint, Outlook and so on; Microsoft 365 is much more.

Microsoft 365 is a suite of applications and is a set of tools designed for collaborative, effective and productive working. Paid for on a per-user basis, Microsoft 365 is a subscription service that provides users with the productivity applications necessary to get work done in the modern world.

Now complete with shared cloud-based storage, easily sharable links for collaboration and complete security that ranks with the very best in the business, Microsoft 365 is the complete package for office and home workers alike.

Along with Microsoft 365, we also offer Microsoft Teams - Direct Routing. This provides VoIP calls for your phone system and allows inbound, and outbound calls through our network, effectively transforming your Teams into a Microsoft Teams phone system. It's perfect solution for the upcoming PSTN Switch Off and will ensure that you stay connected when the phonelines are switched off, while keeping everything in one simple Microsoft bundle.

We enjoy a strong working relationship and have been impressed with the high level of account management that has been maintained throughout. Response is fast, prices represent good value and have allowed us to realise significant savings, and customer service is exemplary. They are never intrusive and have struck a great balance between giving us what we need, and advising us on new service offerings. Would not hesitate to recommend.
